Dear Sir

A Niece of the late John Vanderlyn, has quite a number of Studies, Sketch
-es. & paintings. finished & unfinished, among them the original Study of "Marius on the ruins of Carthage"
& of "Columbus." also some fine paintings. & scenes, cut out of his "Panorama of the gardens & palace of Versailles." all of which she will dispose of on very moderate terms.
Would you like any of them?
Most of the above are not framed & some are not even on stretchers

My dear Sir:
Boston. March 14. 1881

In reply to your inquiries in the note of March 12th. which I have just received. I beg to say that the foot of the Hermes & the head of the Dionysos were given to us by the authorities at Berlin - being sent with other casts which we had ordered from that place.
Consequently I can give you no price.

I am not surprised that

ordering the newly found heads of the Berlin versions - I cannot say that to be out at all with the whole.

Thanking you for the catalogue of which you speak so much. I shall doubtless return in due time - I am,

Very truly yours,

E. H. Kendall.

From Mr. C. D. Dwyer.

you have received
no answer from M.
Diehlitz. it appears to be his custom not to answer letters. Some friends in this city
ordered casts of him
hearing nothing in response - in despair
sent a duplicate order
through the American Minister at Berlin. It was only by chance - at the last moment that the discovery was made - that Diehlitz had duly received the first order & that it was in process of being filled so that the gentleman has seemingly escaped having a duplicate set of casts in his hands - I dare to say that your order is probably being filled at the present time.

I am sure you have any intention of

PENNSYLVANIA ACADEMY OF THE FINE ARTS,

CORNER OF BROAD AND CHERRY STS., PHILADELPHIA.

1881.

THE FIFTY-SECOND ANNUAL EXHIBITION of the Academy will be opened to the public on Monday, April 4th, and will continue until Monday, May 30—a period of eight weeks, during which no work mentioned in the Catalogue can be removed.

Original paintings, drawings, sculptures, architectural designs or models, and engravings, by artists still living or not more than five years deceased, intended for this Exhibition, and not before publicly exhibited in Philadelphia, will be received at the Academy from Monday, March 14th, until Saturday, 19th, inclusive; but no works will be exhibited unless approved by the Committee on Exhibition.

The Academy will collect and return all works in Philadelphia, of which they have timely and sufficient notice, free of charge to the exhibitors; but all others must be delivered at the Academy, carriage prepaid, unless offered under special agreement.

Exhibitors in the city are requested to name the earliest day in the week appointed for collecting, on which the Academy porters may call for their works.

The blank list attached to this notice must be filled up and sent in to the Academy by the 12th of March. No picture will be offered for sale unless the price is given in this list; and the prices thus given will be printed in the Catalogue, unless marked as not for publication.

A card must be attached to each work, giving the title of the work and the artist's name and address, with those of the exhibitor when different.

Frames may be surrounded by a shadow box of dark wood, not more than half an inch thick nor more than an inch in extension from each side of the frame, nor more than a fourth of an inch in projection over the depth thereof. No pictures without frames, or frames without pictures, will be received.

Artist exhibitors only will be admitted on Saturday, April 2d, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M., to varnish their pictures; but no change will be made in the arrangement determined by the Committee on Exhibition.

NOTE.—A competent person will be placed in charge of the Galleries for the sale of works belonging to artists; and a commission of ten per cent. will be charged on all sales made from the exhibition.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Mary Smith Prize Fund, amounting to $2,000.00, invested in Pennsylvania 5 per cent. State Loan, was established in the year 1878, by Russell Smith, in accordance with the request of his deceased daughter. It is vested in the Academy; and its interest and income is to be set apart annually, forever, as a prize "to the painter of the best painting in oil or water colors, exhibited at the said Academy, painted by a resident Philadelphian lady artist, for qualities ranking as follows: 1st. Originality of subject; 2d. Beauty of design or drawing; 3d. Color and effect; and lastly, execution; the said prize to be awarded by each year's 'Exhibition Committee' of said Academy. * * It being always provided and understood that the Academy shall have no claim upon the painting, and that the same lady shall not receive the award more than twice in succession, and not more than five times in all."

The Mary Smith Prize, as provided for by the deed from which the above extracts are made, will be awarded for the third time during the coming exhibition. The amount is One Hundred Dollars ($100.00).

By order of the Committee on Exhibition,

GEORGE CORLISS, Secretary.

Lm Macleod Esq

Dear Sir,

We have seen a letter of which we enclose a copy, written by Miss Hosmer on shipping the "Duck" some twenty years ago. As you will see by this that she lost the first two statues, and this one which we have was the next made and consequently the original.

It came direct from her to St. Louis, and the copy made for the Prince of Wales was subsequent to this -

We hope your board have decided to purchase it -

Very deeply yours

Copy.Rome Dec 2ndmy dear Mr. M^r. Cury;

I hope this will reach you before the arrival of your three years looked for "Puck". I feel ashamed of myself, positively crushed with humiliation when I look at the length of time upon paper, and I haven't much to say in my own defence either, but perhaps the small reed of justification which presents itself I may clutch at, & may be permitted to dwell upon two lines in the chapter of accidents which befel his ushering into this world. The first was that it was discovered he was sadly pitted with the small pox upon his face & breast, though I thought I was the one most to be pitted, yet I was the one most to suffer. The second was that when he was in an advanced state of completion an unfortunate stroke of the mallet entirely amputated his great toe, (the one which is raised threateningly) and of the fragments picked up were not twelve baskets full, but sufficient to be to the proprietor, a total loss.

Under these fatal circumstances you may look upon the present representation as the third pleader in your favor, therefore I hope he will lose no time in addressing himself to your affections & those of the whole household, in which case he will not turn out so badly after all.

It is impossible to calculate upon the length of passage of these sailing vessels, but by the time you receive this he ought to be in New York, I should think, consigned to the tender mercies of J & J Stuart.

Pray write me on receipt of him, & pass judgment upon him, pray also convey my best love to Mrs McCreery & believe me

(signed) Yours - most truly
H. G. Hoerner.

Dear Sir

In reply to your favor of the 9th inst we beg to state that the "Puck" by Miss Hornum is 3 feet high and 15 in x 15 in at base -

It is the original, without any doubt being executed for the present owner who is related to Miss. Hornum's first patron, and with whom she lived here for two or three years in her earliest career.

The copy made for the Prince of Wales was from this statue -

Very respectfully

My dear Sir I have been reading with interest your Catalogue of the Corcoran gallery. And am glad that our Museum has it in its power to make a worth Collection of modern Art.

May I call your attention to the statements in Nos 46 & 60 picture gallery - which might possibly mislead a visitor in Boston. - The paintings named are both in the Museum of Fine Arts - not in the Athenaeum, which is now exclusively given up to books. They however belong to the "Athenaeum & Boston" Corporation. Which has placed its works of art on deposit with us. In preparing our Catalogue of Stuarth's works (we held an exhibit of some of his portraits last summer) - we traced ~~over~~ about 60 Copies of his Washington.

Yrs very truly
